

January 25, 1940

TO OUR GEOMETRY TEACHER

This happy year has swiftly flown
And now we've reached the end,
The time has come to say good-bye
To you, our faithful friend.

Our hearts are steeped in gratitude
For everything you've done,
We must have been so hard to teach
But now, at last, you've won.

You've led us to an interest new
And shown us how to be Far better in our other work
And in geometry.

So now, dear friend, life's pathway turns
To each a different bend,
We wish you luck and happiness,
Good-bye, and thanks, dear friend.